IT'S ILLEGAL TO USE A LEGAL NAME

The BCCRSS (Birth Certificate Clausula Rebus Sic Stantibus) opens by addressing all who operate under a LEGAL NAME or title within the legal system. It exposes that every participant—judge, lawyer, police, or citizen—acts as a fictional entity belonging to the CROWN. The author emphasizes that truth cannot be copyrighted, for it belongs to all who recognize it.

The document seeks to remove phonetic deception and restore clear intent: It is illegal to use any LEGAL NAME because doing so sustains a fraudulent system built on assumption and presumption. This fundamental assertion challenges the foundation of modern legal practice and identity documentation.

The Phonetic Deception

A core section explains how legal phonics corrupt meaning. When spoken words enter the court system, B.A.R. members "re-spell" them to alter intent. For example, saying "I do not consent" is phonetically twisted into phrases implying agreement.

This linguistic sorcery converts honest speech into self-incrimination. The lesson: within the legal world, sound is weaponized; spelling—not meaning—determines control.

How Fraud Perpetuates Dishonour

The BCCRSS shows that all who use a LEGAL NAME stand in "original sign"—a perpetual dishonour—because every signature attached to that fiction affirms ownership by the Crown Corporation. Enforcement by violence or coercion compounds the fraud.

> This is statutory commercial rape: the taking of one's living authority through deceptive registration and linguistic trickery.

01

Registration Creates Fiction

The living being is converted to a corporate entity through documentation

02

Signature Affirms Ownership

Each use of the LEGAL NAME reinforces Crown Corporation control

03

Enforcement Through Coercion

Violence or threat sustains the fraudulent authority structure

04

Recognition Ends Participation

Awareness of this crime terminates complicity in the system

Clausula Rebus Sic Stantibus (CRSS)

The Legal Escape Clause

This Latin maxim— "things thus standing"—is the legal escape clause that voids contracts when fraud is revealed. The BCCRSS explains that once the fraudulent nature of the Birth Certificate and LEGAL NAME is known, all connected contracts are null and void ab initio.

Fraud Revealed

Discovery of deception in birth registration

CRSS Invoked

Legal doctrine dissolves presumed obligations

Release from Bondage

Living being freed from corporate control

Fraud removes all consent, "now for then, then for now." CRSS dissolves every presumption of obligation and releases the living being from corporate bondage.

The Birth Certificate Construct

Here the BCCRSS dissects how birth registration transfers the living child into a dead legal entity. The Birth Certificate is the instrument of conversion—the "proof of intent to commit fraud." It registers life as property of the Crown, making every subsequent identification derived from it criminal use of another's copyrighted material.

1
Birth of Living Being
A child is born with natural rights and living status
2
Registration Process
Parents unknowingly register the birth with governmental authority
3
Certificate Issued
Document creates a corporate fiction—the LEGAL NAME entity
4
Transfer of Property
Living child becomes registered property of the Crown Corporation
5
Perpetual Use
Every identification derived from certificate perpetuates the fraud

To continue using that certificate after knowing this truth is to participate knowingly in fraud. The choice becomes conscious participation or conscious withdrawal.

Invoking the Escape Clause

Invoking CRSS means acknowledging the fraud and ceasing all participation in contracts based on the LEGAL NAME. The doctrine operates individually, not collectively: no one may "renounce" for others.

Once invoked, all prior legal bonds dissolve nunc pro tunc—as if they never existed. The BCCRSS insists that the act is not rebellion but restoration of truth.

Keep in mind, this does not require any legal actions to be carried out. All one must do is simply understand this blatant truth and break the contract in one's own MIND. The one's forcing and asking for legal name's/documentation etc. are the criminals committing the fraud.

1

Acknowledge the Fraud

Recognize the deceptive nature of birth certificate registration and LEGAL NAME use

2

Cease Participation

Stop engaging in contracts, documents, or systems that rely on the fictional entity as much as you safely can

3

Invoke CRSS Individually

Each person must act for themselves; no collective renunciation is possible

4

Dissolution Takes Effect

All obligations void retroactively; jurisdiction collapses upon recognition

> The fraudulent system loses jurisdiction the moment it is seen. This is not rebellion—it is restoration of truth.

Examples of Fraudulent Acts

Daily Life Structured Upon Crime by Design

1 Using a LEGAL NAME Without Permission

Operating under the Crown's copyrighted fiction without explicit authorization constitutes fraud and identity theft

2 Creating Identification from Birth Certificate

Driver's licenses, passports, and social security cards derived from the fraudulent foundational document

3 Aiding Another to Commit Legal Deception

Lawyers, notaries, and officials who facilitate the use of LEGAL NAMES participate in systematic fraud

4 Profiting from LEGAL NAME Commerce

Banks, employers, and institutions that require legal identification benefit from the fraudulent system

5 Participating in Legal Proceedings

Court appearances, contracts, and official processes that presume corporate identity perpetuate the deception

Each example demonstrates how daily life under legality is structured upon crime by design. Awareness transforms ordinary activities into conscious choices.

Law vs. Legal

The Fundamental Distinction

LAW

Arises from truth and conscience

- Natural rights
- Living authority
- Universal principles
- Moral foundation

LEGAL

Arises from contracts and corporations

- Fictional entities
- Registered titles
- Corporate control
- Assumed authority

The author contrasts lawful creation with legal fiction. Law arises from truth and conscience; legal arises from contracts, corporations, and titles. The Vatican, the City of London, and every registered nation are shown as Crown-owned entities.

> "Legality is not reality"
>
> Because all are registered, they are subject to the same fraud. This maxim dismantles the illusion of authority that the legal system projects.

Responsibility and Knowing

Once the fraud is seen, ignorance is no defense. Silence equates to acquiescence. Each individual must decide whether to continue serving a dead fiction or to stand in truth. The BCCRSS teaches that honour is restored through awareness, not aggression.

Awareness

Recognition of the fraudulent system

Choice

Decide between fiction and truth

Restoration

Honor recovered through truth

Action

Cease participation in fraud

After Knowledge

Ignorance cannot be claimed once truth is revealed

Silence = Consent

Failure to stand in truth affirms continued participation

Living Choice

Act from truth or remain in deceit

Fraud ends when no one agrees to perform it. The mirror of responsibility reflects the living choice before each individual.

Resolution and Protocol of Peace

The final message is neutral and peaceful: knowledge of the fraud requires no fight—only clarity. The lawful state is reached through truth and kindness, not through conflict or aggression. The BCCRSS presents a path of conscious awareness rather than violent resistance.

Stand in Truth

Knowledge empowers peaceful restoration of honor without aggression or conflict

> Honour is restored through awareness, not aggression. The fraudulent system collapses not through force, but through recognition of its illegitimacy. Truth requires only clarity, and clarity requires only honesty.
